Descripción

We design, produce and market efficient magnetic components. Technological leaders regarding design and production of resonant transformers, we are the first Italian company to produce ISO9000-certified PCB transformers and we participate, as a current IEC Member, in the Technical Committee regarding the development of the EN61558 Standard for transformers. We have redesigned the magnetic components, thus improving efficiency, dimensions, etc. of the most popular LLC resonant demo-boards. Now, we collaborate with the main manufacturers of semiconductors for the development of demo-boards and special projects.
