Description

CISME Italy srl is a private company established in 1987, it incorporates over 25 years of expertise in research, production, and supply of performance chemicals. CISME implements and maintains since 2002 a Quality Management System which fulfils the requirements ISO 9001:2008. We will operate independently within our targeted technological and geographical areas with creativity, passion and integrity. Product lines are developed to provide practical and innovative solutions to changing markets. Our strategy begins by focusing on our clients specific needs and forge the best performing raw materials with the most adequate, and cost effective production process, to satisfy each specific need at best. CISME is constantly working in partnership with a network of raw material suppliers selected on the basis of their ability to provide technical excellence, consistent quality, and readiness to innovate.
